

SHAMSIA HASSANI

She was born in 1988 in Tehran, Iran (33 years).

She is the founder of the contemporary art collective Rosht.

Since 2005 he has studied traditional art at Kabul University.

She wants to vindicate the oppression experienced by Afghan women in her society.

She has popularized urban art on the streets of Kabul.

ABOUT HER LIFE

- She wasn't allowed to study Fine Arts because she was from Afghanistan.
- She later becomes a Sculpture teacher.
- In 2014, she was named one of the 100 Public Intellectual Poll.

The artist's work focuses on some topics such as war and the situation of women in Afghanistan.

Shamsia presents a symbolic message related to the bueka, is shown transparent to show what is underneath.

